

TROUBADOUR

Fr. Lucian Rieke, O.F.M., has just completed his fifteenth year on the Roger Bacon faculty. Erstwhile instructor in Latin and Greek, he has also spent considerable time and energy as Religious Vocational Director, guiding young men towards the priesthood. In his spare moments he turned to photography as a hobby, and rapidly developed really professional skill, skill which will be reflected in the following pages, as it has been for the past many years in the Troubadour. To him, for his long years of outstanding service, this edition of the Troubadour is respectfully dedicated.

ACTIVITIES

OPENING OF SCHOOL

As usual, the school year opened with a Solemn High Mass at St. Clement Church. The increasing enrollment taxed the capacity of the St. Bernard church for the first time in Roger Bacon history.

Below, right: The Very Reverend Vincent Kroger, O.F.M., Provincial, celebrated the Mass, assisted by Fr. Andrew, Stanley, and Duane.

FIRST FRIDAY

On every First Friday, Mass is said in the school auditorium. In the photo to the right, Frs. Corman and Michael distribute Holy Communion.

ANNUAL RETREAT

FRESHMAN WEEK

Towards the end of September, the Seniors have the privilege of initiating the Freshmen. For three days the lot of the Frosh is quite unenviable, but no fatalities have been reported. Left: R. Dierkes has to put his doll aside to do a few leg-lifts.

Right: Senior Jim Kindt receives the worshipful chant of the Freshmen: "Hail, mighty Senior." From some of the smiles on this page, one would judge that the ordeal was not entirely painful to the baby Spartans.

KANGAROO COURT

Freshman Week was climaxed by Kangaroo Court, September 28. The court rounded out Freshman Week activities by balancing the scale of justice for all—including Seniors. In the above photo Dr. Krankheit (W. Billings) examines E. Oltmann, K. Eilers, and V. Bohlander, to see if they will be able to stand the rigors of the courtroom.

This page gives a good idea of some of the "justice" of the court.

DRAMA

The Billion Dollar Saint was the Fall offering of the Roger Bacon-Our Lady of Angels dramatists. Various scenes from the three-act comedy are shown on this page.

FARMERS' FORMAL

The Bacon cafeteria was turned into a temporary barnyard on March 1. The event was the annual Farmers' Formal for the seniors. Outlandish and comical costumes were the order of the night as calico, levis, hair ribbons, straw hats and bonnets were worn by the best dressed farmers and their dates.

One of the funniest games of the evening was the patching bee. In the photo above, Dave Frey threads the needle for his date, who proceeded to sew a patch on the seat of his trousers. Right: Bob Hauck and date. Below: Bob Rom is forced to turn southpaw in the dart-throwing contest.

Besides dancing, games and contests were featured in the Farmers' Formal. Below: several Seniors try to sweep slips of paper across the floor without losing any of them.

Top: The fellows and their dates compete in the contest which requires them to carry an orange between foreheads. Above: George Puening, Jim Kindt, and their dates try out the buggy brought in for the dance. Below: Two of the contestants succeed in catching the spinning lids before they fall. Mr. Johnson and Fr. Antonine concocted and supervised the various contests.

The annual Junior-Senior Prom was held the night of May 3, when approximately 250 couples appeared to enjoy a memorable evening. In the photo above Tom Hamann and George Hardewig are the white-coated, dreamy dancers in the foreground.

SENIOR PROM

Above: Some of the chaperones for the evening were Mrs. John Cleary, Mrs. Steve Schneider, Mrs. Carl Bausch, Mr. Bausch, and Mr. Schneider.

The high point of the evening was the announcement of the winners of the title of Prom King and Queen. The couple elected to this position was Ken Staub and his date Sally Trippel, who were also Mr. and Miss Popular. In the photo below, Ken crowns his Queen.

Right: Ken and Sally lead the Grand March.

Master of Ceremonies for the evening was Mick McCluskey, shown below announcing the various winners of titles. He was assisted by his date, Elaine Kemper. Above: Elaine adjusts the sash for Miss Dancer (Ruby Chumbley).

The winners of the various titles—Front: Ken Staub and Sally Trippel (Mr. and Miss Popular), Elaine Kemper and Mick McCluskey (M.C.). Middle: Pat Stahl and Tom Brown (Mr. and Miss Personality). Back: Mary Willingham and Norma Payne (Mr. and Miss Athlete), Frank Trotta and Ruth Moehring (Best Dressed), Walt Roeckers and Phyllis Browning (Mr. and Miss Rugged), Barbara Leppert and Ron Hungler (Most Likely to succeed), Ruby Chumbley and Paul Eagle (Best Dancer), Valerie Knecht and Dave Armbruster (Mr. and Miss Scholar).

Music and art students staged a spectacle of talent on Sunday evening, May 19. This was the annual Music-Art Festival in the Bacon auditorium. Above: Fr. Peter conducts the combined Glee Clubs of Roger Bacon and Our Lady of Angels in a rendition of "I Want to Go Home." Soloists standing at right, front were Mary Lou Stickley and Mike Illing. Below: Fr. Cronan conducts the Bacon band.

MUSIC-ART FESTIVAL

The Roger Bacon Chorus featured songs from "My Fair Lady." Right: Fr. Peter directs "On the Street Where You Live."

Above: The saxophones and trumpets give forth. Below: Ken Staub is caught by the camera as he inspects the work of Ken Staub. It's hard to blame him, as Ken is easily one of the finest young artists in the area.

Between the musical presentations the crowd scrutinized the creative offerings of Bacon's young artists. Included in the fifteen-panel exhibit were contour drawings, mosaics, watercolors, pen-ink, and a host of other techniques and media.

Enlargements of the Camera Club's select photos also drew praise from the crowd.

A new organization this year that proved immensely popular is the archery club. Fr. Michael is the organizer and director of the club. Right: Some budding Robin Hoods take aim.

SCHOOL ELECTIONS

The regular school routine was disrupted by the hubbub of the yearly political conventions. On May 10 the Brown and White Parties convened in separate rooms to nominate candidates for the Student Union offices. The platforms of each party together with signs and posters endorsing their candidates were then posted in the cafeteria. Above: The White Party talks over candidates at their convention. Below: The Brown Party whoops it up in the cafeteria in an attempt to draw votes. Jim Frey, presidential candidate (and eventual winner) is held aloft by W. Schwartz and J. Collopy.
